Course Information

Catalog Description:

Examines perceptual processing of sensory information in vision, hearing, touch, taste, and smell. Examines psychophysics and the influence of personality and environmental factors in human perception. Examines neuropsychology and perceptual abnormalities resulting from brain damage. Prerequisites or co-requisites: NEUR 125 and PSYC 121.

Credit Hour Policy Statement:

Standard lecture: "This class meets the federal credit hour policy of 1 hour of class with an expected 2 hours of additional student work outside of class each week for approximately 15 weeks for each hour of credit, or a total of 45-75 total hours for each credit." (Def 1)

Course Learning Outcomes:

By the end of the course, students will be able to:

- Describe the anatomy and physiology of the senses of vision, hearing, vestibular, touch, olfaction, and taste.
- Explain basic neural processes and how these senses are perceived and integrated by humans and selected other animals
- Understand how injury, illness, or other conditions can impact these senses, how they are perceived, and the resultant impacts on the person's activities of daily life and quality of life.

Withdrawal and Attendance policies

<https://www.evansville.edu/registrar/calendars.cfm>

Class attendance: The University expects regular class attendance by all students and places the responsibility to fulfil this expectation on the student. Students are considered sufficiently mature to appreciate the necessity of regular and punctual attendance, to accept this personal responsibility, and to accept the consequences of failure to attend. Attendance will be taken in each class session, and it is mandatory for this course. Each instructor is expected to maintain an attendance policy in keeping with the nature of the course and may consider it in evaluating performance in their courses. When an absence occurs due to emergency or medical reasons, students are expected to notify their instructors of the absence prior to class or to seek the assistance of the Office of the Dean of Students in notifying instructors. Assistance in notifying professors of an absence should not be mistaken for an excused absence.

Withdrawal from the University: A student who finds it necessary to withdraw from all credit courses must apply for formal withdrawal through the Office of the Dean of Students. This process requires the completion of a University withdrawal form, an exit interview and, for students under the age of 18, parental permission. Final approval is subject to clearance from the Office of Student Financial Services. If this procedure is not followed, grades of F will be assigned. After the official last date to withdraw (see the academic calendar), approval for withdrawal from the University without grade penalty will be considered for only one of three reasons: medical or psychological complications, documented by a letter from a doctor or psychologist, or an approved Title IX recommendation from the Title IX Coordinator. Once documentation has been received, the information will be reviewed and decisions issued on a case by case basis.

Grading Criteria:

i. Exams: There will be 3 on-site closed book exams based on assigned readings and lectures worth 65% total (exam 1 25%, exam 2 25%, exam 3 25%).

ii. Discussion board (DB): The DB is worth 20% of your overall grade and will be available to you each week with topics covered in class. Emphasis will be on clarification or elaboration of content from lecture or associated readings, and implications of topics to individuals with neurological diagnoses. You are required to access the discussion board each week, as material covered there is testable. You are required to reply/participate in at least 2 different threads/topics, as assigned throughout the semester. You will reply to a classmate's posting, as assigned to them, at least 2 times. Posting and reply deadlines will be provided on each discussion forum. Original posts and replies to classmates will be scored as seen below. No credit will be given if your posting is redundant to information already posted. Although you may need to reply to a question asked of you by a classmate, your replies on your own thread do not count as the 2 required replies to classmates. Scoring rubric for discussion board:

1 point	2 points	3 points
Minimal response to module question	Posting adequately responds to the question but does not facilitate further class discussion	Posting fully addresses the question and facilitates at least one substantial follow-up posting

iii. Participation: Attendance and participation in in class are worth 5% of your overall grade. There is no extra credit.

v. Grade Distribution

A: 95 – 100	B: 83 – 86	C: 73 – 76	D: 66 – 60
A-: 90 – 94	B-: 80 – 82	C-: 70 – 72	F: 0 – 59
B+: 87 – 89	C+: 77 – 79	D+: 67 – 69

Honor Code:

All students at the University of Evansville agree to the University honor code: I will neither give nor receive unauthorized aid, nor will I tolerate an environment that condones the use of unauthorized aid.

Course AI Policy:

In this course, submission of any work that is not entirely your own is considered academic dishonesty unless otherwise specified. This means that the use of generative AI tools is prohibited, except for certain assignments for which you are given specific guidelines and examples of appropriate AI use. When permitted, you must clearly identify and cite the AI tools used. Submitting AI-generated work as your own constitutes a violation of academic integrity as an example of unauthorized aid.

Technology Policy:

Participation in this course requires regular access to a computer with an internet connection. While some class activities can be completed on a mobile device, many cannot, and it is the responsibility of the student to ensure that access to a computer and the internet is maintained throughout the entirety of the course.

If a student cannot complete an assignment because of a technology difficulty, the student is expected to first contact the instructor via the preferred method of communication to ensure that the instructor is made aware of the situation. The student can then contact the Office of Technology Services (OTS), through the online Help Desk or by phone at (812) 488-2077, to submit an incident and work toward a resolution.

Communication Policy:

There will be regular and substantive interaction between the faculty member and the student, as well as among students. The instructor will frequently and regularly initiate communication with students and it is expected that students reciprocate this communication. Students are also expected to actively participate in course discussions and collaborate with other students according to course policies and assignment instructions to achieve course learning outcomes.

I will reply to your email within 24 hours during the Monday-Thursday school week. You can expect delays in replies for emails that you send at night and over the weekends, spring break, etc.

University Policy Statements

Disability Policy:

The University of Evansville is committed to providing an accessible and supportive environment for students with disabilities. It is the policy and practice of the University of Evansville to make reasonable accommodations for students with properly documented disabilities. Students should contact Disability Services at 812-488-2663 to seek services or accommodations for disabilities. Written notification to faculty from Disability Services is required for academic accommodations.

Institutional Equity and Title IX

UE is committed to fostering an atmosphere free from harassment and creating an inclusive campus for all members of the University community regardless of their sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, race, religion, ethnicity, country of origin, ability, or veteran status. All Faculty members are considered Responsible Employees and required to report instances of discrimination, harassment, or sexual violence to the Office of Institutional Equity

You may also choose to speak to a Confidential Resource about your experience. Confidential Resources at the University include:

Non-discrimination Statement

The University of Evansville expects all members of its community to treat each other with respect and civility. Harassing behaviors directed towards any member of our community will not be tolerated. As part of its commitment to non-discrimination, the University specifically prohibits harassment based on any other characteristics set forth in its nondiscrimination statement as follows: including race, color, gender, gender identity and expression, sexual orientation, creed or religion, national origin, age, disability, veteran status and all federally protected groups/classes. Any form of harassment undermines the mission of the University and negatively impacts the University community as a whole. For more information contact the Center for Inclusive Excellence.

Campus Safety

All members of the UE community are automatically enrolled in the Ace Alerts Emergency Alert System. When the system is activated, emergency notification information is sent in the following manner: calls to campus IP phones, text messages, emails, campus housing speaker system, active threat sirens (non-weather related), digital signage, and AlertUS desktop on campus-owned computers.

To contact the Office of Public Safety:

Emergencies: 812-488-6911

Non-emergencies: 812-488-2051

Complaints, Grievances, and Appeals

The University of Evansville seeks to resolve all student concerns in a timely and effective manner through policies and processes documented in the University Course Catalog and Student Handbook.
